Planning for Lab 02
iOS Course

The main idea behind my abstract implementation is to create a list with the available restaurants(from the api) and then on users demand present it. The user will be able to see the restaurants picture, description, opening hours and visit the restaurants website to view the menu etc. Except of that a button "Show Random Restaurant" will be present on the main page on the top of the restaurants list which will be returning a random restaurant for viewing. Each restaurant can be added to a "Favorite Places".